

PROTECT YOUR FINANCIAL ASSETS WITH A PERSONAL UMBRELLA LIABILITY POLICY

When it comes to safeguarding your valuable assets, there may be no such thing as having too much liability protection, which is why it is often a wise idea to add an extra layer with a personal umbrella liability insurance policy.

THE BENEFITS OF SECURING PERSONAL UMBRELLA LIABILITY INSURANCE THROUGH THE ANDOVER COMPANIES INCLUDE:

- Increased liability limits worldwide.
- Eligibility for a significant discount off your Andover Companies Home Insurance policy premium.
- Access to experienced attorneys with the capabilities to handle your specific liability case, typically resulting in faster response times and more favorable results.

WHY DO YOU NEED AN EXTRA LAYER OF LIABILITY PROTECTION?

Even the most cautious property owners can find themselves embroiled in a lawsuit for damages, injuries, slander, and more. If you are ever the target of such a lawsuit, having a personal umbrella liability policy may help you better protect the assets you are working so hard to accumulate.

WITHOUT PERSONAL UMBRELLA LIABILITY INSURANCE

Your current assets, such as your house, financial investments, and savings accounts, as well as your future income stream, may be considered fair game in a settlement or judgment against you.

WITH PERSONAL UMBRELLA LIABILITY INSURANCE

You may have an added layer of asset protection that takes effect after other insurance sources are exhausted, potentially saving you from having to cover additional medical or legal fees out of pocket.

GET INVALUABLE PROTECTION AT AN ECONOMICAL PRICE.

A personal umbrella liability insurance policy is typically an extremely cost-effective way to safeguard your financial assets. You may be able to extend your personal liability coverage up to as much as $5 million at an affordable cost.
